

CHANGING THE WORLD OF HUMAN RESOURCES WITH SOLUTIONS THAT WORK

Paula Robinson, CEO and Founder of J. PR & Associates has over 20 years of Human Resource expertise. She is a Workplace Culture and Change Management Expert dedicated to People Development, Leadership Excellence, and Career Strategy.

Prior to starting J. PR and Associates in 2003, she had the unique privilege of working with several industry leaders like AT&T, Discover Card, ServiceMaster, Claire's Boutiques Corporate, Paychex Corporate, Riddell Sports, and the United States Department of Labor.

Today Paula helps companies and employees maximize their full potential by using her Change Management strategies to support her client's business and people objectives. Utilizing her experience as a professional speaker, trainer, workshop developer, and adjunct professor, she helps leaders and individual contributors understand the nuances of Change.

Paula helps to create an environment of opportunity and excellence by providing Change Solutions that work. She is also a registered Mediator approved by the Supreme Court's Commission on Dispute Resolution and specializes in resolving workplace and business disputes.

Paula also studied at Northwestern University, Lewis University and has Business Administration & Management degrees from the University of Cincinnati and National Louis University. She is affiliated with multiple professional organizations that unapologetically support workplace and people success.

Paula's unique perspective on quality service, along with her dedication to our most valuable assets....PEOPLE, has taken her around the world as she works to "Change the World of Human Resources with Solutions That Work."
